DIRECTIONS
FOR USING
CREAM BALM.

Apply a portion of the Balm well up into the throat. After a moment draw a strong breath through the throat.
Repeat three times a day after meals profected and before retiring.

ELY'S SCREAM
BALM opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The Court of Appeals yesterday did not reach the Lunenburg cases, except that it dismissed on her own petition the writ of error and supersedeas in the case of Mary Barnes, who is confined in the penitentiary. The petition was filed on Tuesday last and it is presumed that the following reasons: If the others get a new trial and are acquitted, Mary Barnes would be pardoned; if convicted, she would also be convicted on a new trial and might get eighteen years; if new trials are not granted, she would be no worse off than she now is and in any event she is safe from lynching, as she fears would be the case, were she taken back to Lunenburg.

Mauzy vs. the Commonwealth, from the Circuit Court of Richmond. In this case Richard L. Mauzy tendered coupons in payment of taxes amounting to $48. He also paid his taxes in money.
The petitioner claimed that the State was bound by contract to receive these coupons and that he is protected in this right by the Constitution of the United States. The court does not question that right, but does not consider its enjoyment as being at all involved in this litigation. After citing the law and the authorities the court concludes: While we are of the opinion that the act repealing section 408 of the Code is not in conflict with the constitution of the State or the United States, but is valid and binding, and therefore that the Circuit Court did not err in dismissing the petition, we are of opinion that it should have directed the coupons of the petitioner to be returned to him. The State certainly ought not to retain both the coupons and the money.

One of the most interesting opinions was that by Judge Harrison in the case of trustees of Emory and Henry College vs. Shoemaker College and involved the construction of the will of the late James L. Shoemaker, of Estillville. He left a fund for educational purposes and directed that it should be used in building a college on a certain lot in Estillville to be dedicated by him for that purpose. But in case the college should not be built, he directed that the income therefrom should be expended in educating pupils at Emory and Henry and Martha Washington colleges. The testator died without having dedicated a lot at Estillville for a college and the controversy is between Emory and Henry and Martha Washington colleges on the one hand and Shoemaker College on the other as to which is entitled to the benefits of the will. Shoemaker College was chartered in March, 1894, after the death of the testator, and proposes to erect college buildings at Estillville on a lot conveyed by the Gate City Land Company. The court holds that the language of the will is plain; that he did not dedicate a lot at Estillville for a college and therefore the benefits of the will accrue to Emory and Henry and Martha Washington colleges.

Robert M. Burke vs. Alice E. Shaver, from the Circuit Court of Rockingham.
Opinion by Judge Cardwell.

The action was for breach of promise of marriage, the declaration alleging in aggravation of damages seduction. The jury gave a verdict for $1,000. The first assignment of error is to the refusal of the trial court to give the following instructions asked for by defendant, to-wit: "1. The jury are instructed that if the plaintiff yielded to the request of the defendant to have sexual intercourse with her upon promise of marriage in case she got into trouble, such contract did not constitute a legal contract of marriage. 2. The jury are instructed that upon an agreement between a single man and a single woman to have illicit intercourse and that if pregnancy of the female should follow the man agrees to marry the woman, such an agreement is against marriage, and does not create a legal contract of marriage."

The Court of Appeals holds that the instructions were proper and should have been given. A contract for marriage, says the court, "is the mutual agreement of a man and woman to marry each other, and must satisfy the legal requirements as to parties, consideration, etc., as other contracts must. An agreement is void when the consideration is future illicit cohabitation, no matter what other consideration may unite, or how skillfully the object illegal might be clothed. The judgment of the lower court is set aside and a new trial granted."
